the first textbook to present world history via social history drawing on social science methods and research this interdisciplinary comprehensive and comparative textbook is authored by distinguished scholars and experienced teachers and offers expert scholarship on global history that is ideal for undergraduate students volume 2 takes us from the early modern period to speculation about the world in 2050 visiting diverse civilizations nation states ecologies and people along the journey through time and place the book pays particular attention to the ways in which ordinary people lived through the great changes of their times and how everyday experience connects to great political events and the commercial exchanges of an interconnected world with 75 maps 65 illustrations timelines boxes and primary source extracts the book enables students to use historical material and social science methodologies to analyze the events of the past present and future students of western civilization need more than facts they need to understand the cross cultural global exchanges that shaped western history to be able to draw connections between the social cultural political economic and intellectual happenings in a given era and to see the west not as a fixed region but a living evolving construct these needs have long been central to the making of the west the book's chronological narrative emphasizes the wide variety of peoples and cultures that created western civilization and places them together in a common context enabling students to witness the unfolding of western history understand change over time and recognize fundamental relationships although the organizing principle of virtually every world history text is development the editor of this volume maintains that this traditional approach fails to address the issue of sustainability by adopting the ecological process as their major theme the authors show how the process of human interaction with the natural environment unfolded in the past and offer perspective on the ecological crises in our world at the beginning of the 21st century topics range from broad regional studies that examine important aspects of the global environment that affect nations to a study of the widespread influence of one important individual on his nation and beyond the authors take different approaches but all share the conviction that world history must take ecological process seriously and they all recognize the ways in which the living and non living systems of the earth have influenced the course of human affairs
